

Alex Seidler Bio:

Alex has been in full time ministry since 2006. He has been a missionary and missions director the past 20 years. Involved with church planting, strategic leadership, discipleship movements, and leading apostolic initiatives.

Alex is the founder and president of The Gateway Project, a new collaborative missions organization dedicated to forming and planting teams in the most strategic cities on the planet. He has also founded and leads Forward Coalition and Forward Movement, which are organizations dedicated to church planting, equipping churches, and developing leaders.

He is a graduate of both Elim Bible Institute and Roberts Wesleyan College. In 2009, he married his beautiful wife Jodi, and together they minister throughout the world believing for God's heart and mission to be multiplied in a fresh way. They have two amazing boys, Elliott and Kylo and are currently based out of Western NY.